RAP AT FEATHERING NESTS

Witness Admits Lying About Taking Freezer

Testifies At Senate Unit Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York feather merchant admitted Thursday he accepted — while a chief of government inspectors — a home freezer and some meat to stock it from a man whose firm made garments for the armed services.

Joseph G. Porreca of Clifton, N. J., confessed to the Senate Investigations subcommittee he lied when he denied at a previous hearing that he took the freezer from business hustler Marvin Rubin on Christmas Eve 1952.

The balding, husky-voiced witness said the truth is he accepted the home freezer, 25 or 30 pounds of meat and a dozen items of lingerie from Rubin while inspectors under his supervision checked the output of Rubin's firm in Puerto Rico.

Rubin himself acknowledged sending the freezer to Porreca. He insisted, however, it wasn't a Christmas gift but a loan. He said Porreca never paid for the freezer in spite of several "gentle" duns.

Rubin and Porreca, the former inspection chief for the Army Quartermaster Corps in New York, agreed on one thing: Porreca repaid one of his inspectors from the Puerto Rican plant after Rubin complained about the man. Porreca said there were other reasons for replacing the inspector.

Porreca, now connected with the New York Feather Co., swore he never took a dishonest dollar from anybody and never used his government post to — as Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) put it — "feather his nest."

The testimony came in the second day of the committee's inquiry into alleged "bribery and corruption" in the purchase of clothing for the armed forces during the past three years.

It found Rubin—who used to get government contracts for Bonita Originals, Inc., for a promised one-third of the profits—contradicting sworn testimony of other witnesses, including a man who now works as a government income tax auditor.

This witness, Jerome Schlesinger of New York, said Rubin got him $150 in expenses for going to Puerto Rico and straightening out an inventory muddle when Schlesinger worked for the Quartermaster Corps in August 1953.

Rubin acknowledged okaying an airplane ticket for Schlesinger but denied knowing anything about any expense money.

Porreca, the feather man said he lied to the committee in a previous appearance because he was "soared to death."

Red Press Attacks Continue Despite Soothing Words

MOSCOW (AP)—Despite a cascade of soothing words about Yugoslavia and the easing of international tensions, there is no sign of any letup and anti-British propaganda in the Soviet press.

There had been some thought among Westerners here that the constant criticism of the United States might ease somewhat in view of the forthcoming meeting of the heads of government of the Big Four.

But the press abounds in anti-American comment and cartoons. The latest issue of the humor magazine Krokodil, for example, shows a laughing American policeman turning his back while masked hoodlums raid the burned out office of a "workers' newspaper."

Attacks on President Eisenhower have not been as concerted as they were against his predecessor, President Truman, but Secretary of State Dulles continues to be a frequent target. Similarly, British Prime Minister Eden is inheriting the shots formerly leveled against Sir Winston Churchill.

In a single day's report, the official Soviet news agency, Tass, runs up this record:

It accuses Secretary Dulles of boasting in his report to the nation Tuesday.

It accuses Prime Minister Eden of advocating a Big Four meeting only as a maneuver in the British election campaign.

It plays a report that the United States is expanding military air bases in Japan with aggressive intentions.

Ike Vetoes Postal Pay Boost, Senate Votes On Override Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower vetoed an 8.6 per cent postal pay raise bill Thursday and several senators said he has the votes to make it stick.

The test will come on Tuesday, when the Senate will vote on whether to override the veto.

Eisenhower, in apparent anticipation that he will be upheld, asked Congress in his veto message to "quickly consider and enact postal pay legislation that will be in the public interest and fair to all of the half-million employees who man the postal service."

Eisenhower, who has indicated a 7.6 per cent raise would be as much as he would approve, said the rejected bill failed to meet the criteria of fairness, workability and reasonableness in cost. He specified:

"1 It discriminates against large groups of postal workers such as rural letter carriers, special delivery messengers, and many supervisors and postmasters. These total tens of thousands."

"(2) Aside from creating new and serious administrative problems, the total cost of the bill, approximately 180 million dollars a year, is substantially greater than is necessary to adjust postal salaries to a fair level, either from the standpoint of pay for comparable work or from the standpoint of increase in the cost of living."

While Eisenhower has vetoed many bills since he became President, most of them minor ones, Tuesday's vote will mark the first attempt to override him.

The bill Eisenhower vetoed would have added 179 million dollars plus to the Post Office Department payroll of some two billion dollars. Pay raises would start at 7 per cent. Benefits from job reclassifications would boost the average to 8.6 per cent, and fringe increases would make the total effect 8.8 per cent.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, declined to predict how the vote to override might come out, but two minority leaders, Sens. Knowland (R-Calif.) and Saltonstall (R-Mass.), said the veto would be upheld.

The compromise bill passed the Senate 66-11, and the House 328-66. However, preliminary votes considered more indicative of the situation were 224-189 in the House to approve an 8.2 per cent raise and 52-41 in the Senate against a 7.6 per cent raise.

It takes a two-thirds vote to override a veto.

U. N. CENSORSHIP POLICIES UNDER RED FIRE UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia challenged the right of the United Nations Thursday even to discuss news censorship policies of U. N. members.

Andrei A. Fomin, Soviet delegate, said such debate would violate the U. N. charter forbidding any interference with domestic affairs of a country.

Fomin assailed a resolution sponsored jointly by the United States, Britain and Ecuador which would have the U. N. Economic and Social Council "urge all states to cease the practice of censoring outgoing news dispatches during peacetime."

More than 10,000 AFL teamsters, after a breakdown of month-long negotiations, struck the Western lines of the Pacific Intermountain Express, Consolidated Freightways and Pacific Motor Trucking Co.

Midwestern and Eastern divisions of the lines operate under already-negotiated contracts. The strike will affect them, truckers said, because shipments to and from the West will be halted.

The three firms handle 80 per cent of the trucked freight in the West.

Lightning Kills Four School Boys; Rains Hit Dust Bowl

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Lightning killed four Texas schoolboys and floods swept four states Thursday as torrential rains drenched the dust bowl area of the Southwest.

Trinidad, Colo., was hit by its worst flood in history, but nowhere was there a threat of a major disaster.

The rains caused momentary misery to hundreds of families, chased out of homes by quick-rising creeks and rivers—fed by as much as 15 inches of rain in some places in Texas.

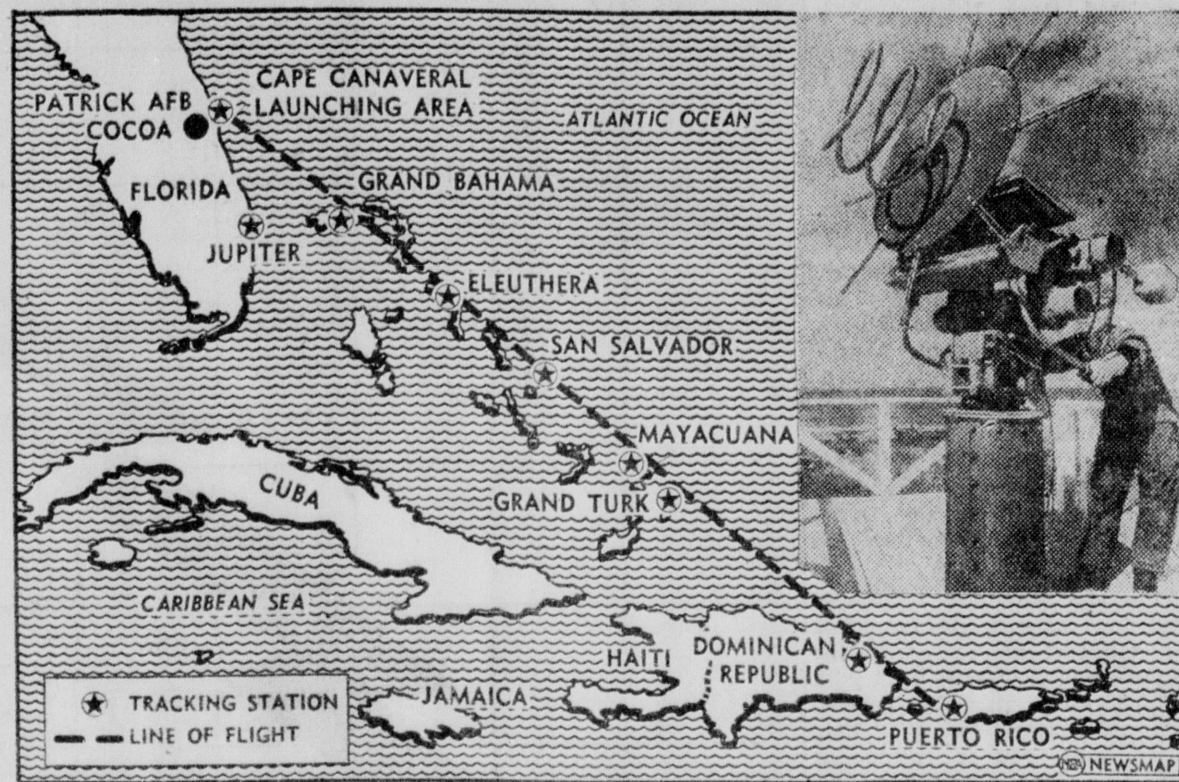

But they brought more hope than suffering to the spawning grounds of dust storms. Water supplies in scores of cities were replenished and subsoil dry for years was soaked.

In Texas, State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said the heavy rains turned the outlook for crops this year from "dismal failure" to "fairly good."

The weather bureau said you couldn't call the cloudbursts over New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and Texas a drought breaker. But they certainly put a dent in the dry spell.

U. S. HAS WORLD'S LONGEST GUIDED MISSILE RANGE — Final tests of nearly every guided missile developed in this country are made at the Air Force Missile Test Center on Cape Canaveral, Fla., world's longest proving range, shown on Newsmag above. Missiles launched over the 1000-mile range pass over inhabited islands. But there is little or no danger of a missile going "haywire" and falling on a town. From take-off, they are tracked from instrumentation stations (stars) by advanced radar, telemetry and other apparatus. If the missile goes off course, it is instantly exploded in mid-air by remote control. Among the weird-looking instruments spotted along the range is the Mark 51 Telemetry Director, shown in inset. It receives automatically-transmitted radio impulses from the missile itself, transferring complete, detailed flight data to magnetic tape. At end of test, the tape is played back for study and analysis.

Officer Denies Saying Russia Force Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — After drawing a rebuke from his chief, Brig. Gen. Woodbury M. Burgess of Air Force Intelligence denied Thursday he had said Russia's air force is as good or better than America's.

Burgess' denial was relayed to newsmen by Chairman Chavez (D-N.M.) and Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. There was no word from Burgess himself and the Air Force said there would be none.

Earlier Thursday Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had issued a public rebuke to Burgess, who is deputy chief of staff for Intelligence in the Continental Air Defense Command.

Hoover Estimates Suggestions Could Save $6 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Hoover said Thursday night his commission on organization of the executive branch of the government has recommended steps to save six billion dollars for the taxpayers so far.

"And beyond that there could be returned to the treasury about seven billion of money which could be provided otherwise," the former President said.

Hoover gave the savings estimated by the commission's task forces in an address to the 39th annual meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board.

"Our job," Hoover said, "is to search out the systems of organization and administration which need repairs. Some of the ways of managing were good enough before the government multiplied its size about 14 times in 25 years."

"Some of these faulty systems are due to obsolete legislation. Some are due to the sacrosanct character of bureaucratic empires. Some are due to the pressure groups that profit from the present setup. Some of these systems are due to the primary emotion of resentment to being waked up."

Hoover cited the commission's enabling legislation, which says in part its purpose is "eliminating nonessential services, functions and activities which are competitive with private enterprise."

Hoover said 70 per cent of the recommendations of a similar commission five years ago, which he also headed, have been adopted "and great consequences in more efficient and more economical government have flowed from them."

"I am confident that the pressure of American common sense will secure 70 per cent of our present recommendations in the next five years."

Argentina Votes To Separate State, Catholic Church

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The Argentine House of Deputies voted 121-12 Thursday night to separate the Roman Catholic Church from the state.

The vote came after two days of debate on the crucial issue of the dispute between President Juan D. Peron and the church.

Thursday night's session ended with a noisy pro-Peron demonstration. Peron himself is ill with influenza at his home.

Deputies in the chamber shouted "Peron, Peron" and pounded their desks to celebrate the major initial victory for the Peronistas over the church.

Polio Victim Has New Baby Girl

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 23-year-old mother, who has had to use mechanical breathing aids since she was stricken with polio two years ago, was the mother of a new baby girl Thursday.

"I feel glorious," said Mrs. John J. Sands from an iron lung in City Hospital. In a crib beside her was her baby, Joan Coletta Sands, born Wednesday.

The child is perfectly formed and has responded brightly to its first feedings.

Mrs. Sands, wife of a law student here, has another daughter, Peggy, 4.

Never entirely free of respirators since she contacted polio, Mrs. Sands got along at home with a chest respirator. Just before the baby's birth, the mother was returned to an iron lung. She was removed long enough to have the baby delivered and was put under a mild dosage of anesthesia.

Granite City, Ill. Girl Wins 28th National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sandra (Sandy) Sloss, a 13-year-old girl from Granite City, Ill., who "didn't expect to win," spelled down 61 opponents Thursday to capture the 28th National Spelling Bee.

Sandy, a tall, pretty blue-eyed eighth grader, won the $500 first prize and an expenses-paid trip to New York after a stirring final round duel with Jean Copeland, 12, Prescott, Ariz. Jean won $300 for her second place finish.

The words those kids spelled would have stumped a Rhodes scholar. The officials ran out of their first list and waded into the dictionary for a collection of words that seemed pretty much impossible.

Oddly enough, the key word was a short one, "abbacy," which means a place where an abbot lives. Jean had the first crack at it and came up with "abbacy."

Sandy waded right through that one and sealed her victory by rattling off "crustaceology," the 541st word in the bee. That one means the study of shellfish.

Sandy was sent to the bee by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The contest is sponsored each year by the Scripps-Howard newspapers in conjunction with other newspapers. Jean's sponsor was the Arizona Republic.

This year a record field entered with 62 contestants representing 31 states.

Dr. Paul Wright Elected To Lead Presbyterians

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Paul S. Wright of Portland, Ore., son of a missionary, was elected Thursday to lead the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

Dr. Wright, 59, takes over as moderator, the highest position in the church of more than 2½ million members, one of three Presbyterian groups.

He leads the week-long 167th General Assembly which opened Thursday.

Dr. Wright was chosen over Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City. The vote was 610-393.

The new moderator was born in Tabriz, Iran, and came to America when he was 15. His pastorates include Crosby, N. D., Bismarck, N. D., and Minneapolis.

Dr. Wright's predecessor, Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville, Tenn., College, asked the General Assembly to approve entry of women into the ministry and to press harder for its non-segregation doctrines.

Military Reserve Bill Delayed By Segregation Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House got tangled Thursday in a quarrel over racial segregation and the result was an indefinite delay for President Eisenhower's urgent program to strengthen the military reserves.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), whose parliamentary tactics prevented almost certain defeat for a bill carrying out the program, indicated it may be three weeks or more before backers consider bringing up the measure again.

The bill, supported by the President and leaders of both parties, provides for a two million-man expansion in the organized reserves by 1960, largely through a new six-month training program for teenage volunteers.

On Wednesday, the House tentatively adopted an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.) prohibiting the assignment or enlistment of men in National Guard and reserve units practicing racial discrimination. The vote was 126-87.

Then, in Thursday's climactic vote, the House rejected a Vinson substitute knocking out the Powell amendment. The vote was 167-143.

Both sides agreed that the anti-segregation amendment threatened to give opponents of the bill enough support from southern congressmen to virtually kill it, by sending it back to the Armed Services Committee.

Vinson won 161-124 on a swift motion to suspend consideration. He said he was acting to save "the battered, almost defeated... bill."

Tests Delay Shipments Of Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — A series of official and unofficial statements Thursday dashed hopes for an early resumption of Salk vaccine shipments to keep the nation's antipolio campaign going.

A spokesman for the U. S. Public Health Service, which controls release of the vaccine from manufacturers, reported that it will be at least next week before any shipments are resumed.

Eli Lilly Co. of Indianapolis, in another statement, said it did not expect government approval of any more of its vaccine before May 29, and that its scientists have decided on further tests because of the "public hysteria."

Rep. Staggers (D-W.Va.) said he has been told that clearance procedures for vaccine manufacturers conceivably could delay full-scale resumption of inoculations as much as four or five weeks.

Staggers added he had assurances from the "highest competent public health authorities" that there is nothing to worry about in the immunization program.

In the Senate, however, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) accused the Public Health Service of arousing "grave public concern" by its "in and out, up and down," handling of the program.

He also said he has information indicating that the Salk vaccine being produced for the antipolio campaign is not precisely the same as that used in last year's successful tests.

Humphrey, who holds a pharmacist's degree, said he has been "dveling into this," but that he has no intention of withdrawing his 7-year-old son, Douglas, from the immunization program. The Humphrey boy has had his first shot.

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, surgeon general and head of the Public Health Service, reported previously that the use of merthiolate as a preservative in the vaccine has been discontinued this year to increase immunization, particularly over the No. 1 type of polio. Humphrey did not mention merthiolate.

While government-approved supplies of vaccine are dwindling throughout the country, the Public Health Service is taking what one spokesman described Wednesday as "another look-see" at this whole very confusing picture.

Thursday another spokesman said that after completion this week of the plant-by-plant inspection of the five manufacturers in the reappraisal of previously cleared lots of vaccine, the government team will return to Washington and "begin to apply more refined standards and test data to materials on hand."

Meanwhile infantile paralysis cases increased in the United States.

The Public Health Service reported there were 206 new polio cases in the week ended May 14. This was a 30 per cent increase over the previous week and compared with 151 cases in the second week of May last year and a five-year average of 116 for the same period.

Editorial Comment

DIGGING FOR ISSUES

When a party is out of power, as the Democrats now are at the White House, the leadership naturally grasps at every straw which may turn out to be a salable issue at the polls.

The task can be especially frustrating when the party in power has a very popular President, as is the case right now. The "outs" inevitably are torn over the question whether or not to attack him personally. And even if they do, they have no assurance they will hurt him materially.

Often they are exasperated to find that a popular President can ride out blunder after blunder without important loss of stature. The Democrats at the moment are busy cataloguing what they believe are some of Mr. Eisenhower's errors in office. But a few of these go well back into 1953, and the public opinion polls measuring the President's popularity suggest these things didn't upset many people.

Politicians close to events frequently magnify in their own minds the impact these developments will have on the public at large. They get all stirred up in Washington over matters that won't cause a ripple 200 miles away.

Some of them then proceed to bemoan the indifference of voters. No doubt there's plenty of that, but it's certainly not the whole story in Mr. Eisenhower's case.

It's been said before and it can be said again: Most Americans trust him deeply. They believe he is sincerely concerned for their welfare and safety. They believe he is qualified to keep them out of war. The very "political ineptitude" his critics allege actually helps convince many voters Mr. Eisenhower is above politics.

When this is the case, it isn't going to hurt him much to point out that he doesn't know the name of the head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Or to charge him with cruelty to the squirrels on the White House lawn. A few critics did seriously suggest these "little things" could help do him in.

As a matter of fact, there is evidence that Mr. Eisenhower can even commit bobbles in the very field he is considered most able to deal with—foreign and military affairs—and not suffer unduly.

Whenever a man gains the deep confidence of the people as he has, the cry always goes up that Americans again are "worshipping the father image." In other words, that they seek a great protector, and when they think they have one they don't worry much about the details of his performance.

This may be so, and it may have its bad aspects. But the whole blame for this state of mind cannot be laid on the people, at least not in Mr. Eisenhower's case. It seems indisputable one of the prime reasons they picked him in 1952 was their conviction he was not an ordinary politician.

The mood of 1952, and since, has been one of continuing distrust and often disgust toward the standard politicians of the major parties. The votes show it. People have no real faith in either party. They are fed up with short-sighted political maneuvering in a time of great stress.

No man can safely be said to be unbeatable. But the fellow who beats Mr. Eisenhower will first have to earn from the people the kind of trust he has won. And that will not be easy for any man or party.

NEW YORK (AP) — Every adult in the world ought to spend at least an hour a day baby watching.

Can't think of a better way to learn human nature. Seeing a child struggle so desperately to become a grownup, you begin dimly to understand why grownups so often act like desperate children.

There is no industry, pastime, or hobby — call it what you will — that kindles the spirit more than baby watching. But nothing else gives you quite such a frightening insight into the passage of time.

"Why, it seems only yesterday that —" This is the phrase you find yourself using most often in baby watching. You leave a baby for a day or two, and when you come back it seems to have sprung up with the speed of a flower racing the turning sun.

So it has been with Tracy Ann, a small stranger who came into our lives as a month-old mite in a bundle nearly two years ago.

Why, it seems only yesterday that I held her to my shoulder to burp her. So soft and frail and helpless she felt then, so utterly dependent, that I was afraid she'd bend and break.

What happens to a baby? Where do they vanish so swiftly? Right while you're watching, right before your eyes, the baby fades and disappears. Suddenly you no longer are watching a baby but a small sturdy human being running on its own legs, pushing your helping hands away impatiently, and trying to seize the whole wide world in its two little hands.

When did it happen? You can't quite remember. All you know is that the baby you loved is gone. A child you love has taken its place.

There is a big difference between a baby and a child. Take reading, for example. As a baby, Tracy Ann loved nothing better than to digest newspaper editorials. She did this literally, by tearing out the editorial, stuffing it in her mouth, and gumming it until it had been thoroughly absorbed. Finally had to take newspapers away from her altogether. Afraid she might ruin her eyes.

Now, as a child, she is on a mother goose jag. We read these jingles together practically every morning. But I may have to halt this, too. It seems to make her melancholy. Her favorite picture shows Little Boy Blue, fast asleep under the haystack. He is barefooted, and this distresses Tracy no end.

"No shoes," she says sadly, shaking her head. Never mind the sheep in the meadow, the cows in the corn. Isn't that sleepy little boy ever going to get a pair of bright new shoes?

My wife, Frances, and I believe Tracy must be a genius because, although her second birthday is still a month away, she can count up to five and tell the primary colors.

That is, she can do these things when she isn't in her dotage or trying to tease me. A child's dotage comes just before its nap or bedtime, when its wits wander like those of some very old people. At such moments Tracy insists four comes after two and there is no such number as three at all.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American government doesn't know what the Russians are up to. That point stands out clearly in Secretary of State Dulles' talk to the nation.

Lately the Communists have been mild and to a degree cooperative. They let Austria have independence. They have agreed to talks among the Big Four powers—the United States, Britain, France, Russia — at the highest level. Why?

Dulles doesn't know. He frankly expressed puzzlement in his broadcast Tuesday night. Although President Eisenhower said a "new dawn may be coming," he and Dulles cautioned against expecting too much of the talks.

Dulles and Eisenhower, both of whom had been frigid for years to a top-level meeting with the Russians, will now both meet with them. Neither man has shown much enthusiasm for the idea. Britain and France persuaded Dulles to persuade Eisenhower to take part.

This whole Russian performance may be phony. There's a chance it isn't, that they really want peace and are willing to pay a price for it in the form of concessions they never would make before.

If they do back up a bit, the United States will have to be prepared to do the same if, by doing so, American safety and world peace are benefited. American rigidity might continue a cold war until it became hot.

But Dulles knows any American concessions by him or Eisenhower may bring down the wrath of some Republicans. Both men have vivid memories of Republican outcries for the past 10 years over concessions made by President Roosevelt at Yalta.

Yet, if the Russians yield but the United States yields nothing, this country endangers its alliances.

Dulles said Tuesday night: Eisenhower and the other heads of government can't solve all the big problems in the three or four days they'll meet. "I think that will be a meeting which can be held safely without bringing in great risks and which may open up a new opportunity."

Dulles privately is reported to believe it will take many months, perhaps years, to work out agreements with the Soviet Union on great world issues.

Beef And Lamb To Be The Best Buys During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef and lamb will offer the most for your money in the nation's food stores this weekend.

It's on cuts of these two meats that most of the weekend price trimming is planned. Favorite features will be chuck roast and round roast. However, one large chain plans to cut prices on sirloin steaks by from two to six cents a pound and on prime ribs by around two to four cents.

Legs of lamb will be a popular special, too, and a number of stores will have lamb shoulder roast at reduced prices. There also will be reductions on lamb chops in some areas.

Frying chickens will be higher by from two to four cents a pound, however.

Egg prices won't show much change this weekend, but the word is that you may expect higher prices soon. The approaching hot weather means hens will lay fewer eggs.

Butter prices this weekend will be about the same as a week ago. Prices will be higher on snap beans, carrots, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers and cabbage, according to the produce men.

Never Delay Treatment Because of Fear of Cancer

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Nodules or lumps may appear in the breast at almost any age. There are several kinds and some are relatively harmless. Because of the danger that any lump may be cancerous they should never be neglected. When there is doubt as to the nature of the breast lump it is best to have it taken out.

Speaking of cancer of the breast, first it should be pointed out that when this is discovered early and promptly treated by surgical removal, the recovery rate is good.

MANY PHYSICIANS now feel that mature women should learn how to examine their own breasts. This can be done under the instruction of their physician; an excellent motion picture put out by the American Cancer Society is also useful. If the examination is done satisfactorily about once a month any lump will be found quite early, and will thus allow a woman to seek professional advice at once with consequent excellent chances for complete recovery.

The finding of a nodule in the breast is beyond doubt the most important early sign to watch for. The belief that one cannot have cancer of the breasts unless the nipples are pulled in, where there is dimpling of the skin of the breast or other symptoms, is dangerous. It is, however, true that a flattening of some portion of the breast or any change in its shape which has not been present before is suspicious.

ALSO, ANY DISCHARGE or secretion from the nipple should be cause for prompt study. Pain, burning, and other sensations are rare in the early stages of cancer.

Once a lump or suspicious area of the breast has been found, proper treatment involves prompt surgery with the removal of some of the tissue from the lump and its examination under the microscope. This tissue can be frozen, stained, and examined almost at once so that if cancer cells are found, the entire tumor and surrounding breast tissue can be removed without further delay. The longer the cancer has been present, the more danger there is that it cannot be entirely eliminated.

THOSE WHO DELAY treatment because of fear that cancer may be found are extremely shortsighted because it is with early stages that complete cure is possible.

I should like to say a final word about a condition of the breast which is extremely common, particularly around the menopause. This is known most commonly as cystic mastitis. It may not be possible to tell the difference between a cyst and cancer the first time a cystic nodule is noted in the breast and to be on the safe side this too usually has to be removed and examined under the microscope. Other cystic changes may develop in the same or opposite breast, however, and recently one prominent surgeon deplored the practice of too many operations for these cysts. This question, however, is complex and one must be constantly on the alert that a new lump is not a different type of tumor.

THESE COMMITMENTS would keep Austria out of NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. If the Austrians think however, that they can be assured of any western guarantees of independence, for free, they may be mistaken.

Austria's northeastern frontier is a deep thumb stuck into Czechoslovakia and Hungary. It would take a long supply line to support Austria if attacked. It would add greatly to NATO's problems if Austria had to be included in defense plans. The easy solution would be to let Austria go and try to save Germany.

The Austrians insist that they will not become passive neutrals. They are definitely anti-Communist in their record, their government and their natural interests.

AUSTRIA'S MAIN TRADE TIES are with the west. Over 40 per cent of Austria's trade was with eastern Europe before the war. It is now only nine per cent. Eastern Europe no longer has surplus grain to trade.

As to why the Russians have chosen this particular time to make peace, the Austrians profess to be as baffled as everyone else.

If it is bait for a reunited and disarmed Germany, the Austrians, who know the Germans, think Germany won't be fooled.

One speculative answer is that the Russians realize they are overextended. Wanting outlet on their western front while the situation in the Orient is so tense, the Soviet may be anxious to make deals wherever it can in Europe.

Mist of Question Marks Clouding Austrian Treaty

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Signing of an Austrian peace treaty after nine years of nerve-racking negotiation with the Communists marks the first time that Russian troops have withdrawn towards Moscow since they agreed to get out of northern Iran in 1946.

According to the text of the Romanian and Hungarian peace treaties of 1947, the Russians agreed to withdraw their troops from those two countries after the Austrian treaty is signed.

This would mark a further Soviet withdrawal if lived up to.

But the Hungarian and Romanian treaties have been violated in many other ways. The provision is regarded as a dead letter.

Russian troops are expected to stay opposite the Austrian border—even in Hungarian and Romanian uniforms for a disguise, if necessary.

Simple facts of life like these have made many Americans skeptical of any good in the Austrian peace treaty. If the Russians do move out of their zone of occupation in Austria, pessimists expect them to move back in whenever it suits them—after the Americans, British and French move out.

DR. KARL GRUBER, Austria's ambassador to Washington and her former Foreign Minister, has been having his difficulties in beating down speculative conclusion of this sort.

To him and to all Austrians, apparently, the new treaty is wonderful. It awards Austria her freedom for the first time since the Nazis took over in World War II.

Austria offers no easy road for a possible Russian attack on either Germany or Italy, says Gruber. The Russians don't like to fight in the mountains. The Austrians make good soldiers and they have fought the Russians for centuries. They would do it again if necessary.

Limitations on the size of the Austrian army and its air force have been dropped out of the treaty draft.

Two limitations on Austria are not in the treaty but in a separate agreement between Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab and Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov. They would ban any foreign military bases on Austrian soil and prevent Austria from joining any military alliances. The Austrian Parliament is expected to make policy declarations to this effect. They present a major hazard.

THESE COMMITMENTS would keep Austria out of NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. If the Austrians think however, that they can be assured of any western guarantees of independence, for free, they may be mistaken.

Austria's northeastern frontier is a deep thumb stuck into Czechoslovakia and Hungary. It would take a long supply line to support Austria if attacked. It would add greatly to NATO's problems if Austria had to be included in defense plans. The easy solution would be to let Austria go and try to save Germany.

One speculative answer is that the Russians realize they are overextended. Wanting outlet on their western front while the situation in the Orient is so tense, the Soviet may be anxious to make deals wherever it can in Europe.

Certainly, if the Austrian treaty is signed before a possible Big Four Conference of Heads of government is held this summer, the Russian bargaining position will be greatly reduced.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's Medea among the melons and Lady Macbeth in the lettuce patch when Judith Anderson is not doing her high-powered emoting before audiences.

The Australian-born actress gets away from it all at her 38-acre ranch in Carpinteria, just south of Santa Barbara, Calif. And friends say that she really escapes from her classical roles up yonder. Instead of flowing robes, she sports blue jeans, old shirts and straw hats.

When viewed on the set of "The Ten Commandments," she was in more typical attire. She plays the slave of the Pharaoh's daughter, Nina Foch, and the scene showed them fishing the infant Moses out of the bulrushes.

Miss Anderson, dressed in an early Egyptian costume with a metal slave band around her arm, looked down as she sank the baby boat into the Nile (actually the tank on Paramount's back lot).

Afterwards, she was told "you looked great in the rushes," but this bit of drollery was wasted on her. Her mind was on other matters, such as Paris and avocados.

The Paris matter concerns "Medea," which she is going to do next month as part of the "Salute to France." This is the artistic gesture sponsored by the State Department. Besides "Medea," French art treasures, symphony orchestras and "Oklahoma!" are going to Paris.

"I'm very thrilled about it," Miss Anderson remarked. "We'll do the play at the Sarah Bernhardt theater. She has always been my idol, although I never saw her perform."

But to get to the avocados—"I am expecting them, to take care of me in my old age."

So far the temperamental actress haven't come through for her. When she bought the ranch a few years ago, it was a fairly rundown place with lemon groves. She had the place spruced up and 500 avocado trees planted.

"There are so many things that can go wrong," she said. "The wind can blow the blossoms away or the bees might not appear to carry the pollen. So far we haven't had any fruit. In another year we'll find out whether these trees will produce or if we'll have to graft new buds on them."

Manners Make Friends

If a friend of yours appears on television or makes a speech, don't ask him afterward, "Why didn't you say such-and-such?" or say regretfully, "I was hoping you would say this or that."

All he really wants to hear is that he did well, with no reservations added.

If Comradeship Is Aim, Wives Must Do Changing

Let's face it. When a husband and wife are especially companionable it is usually because the wife is willing to go along with all of her husband's interests.

Occasionally there is a husband who gets interested in a sport or hobby or artistic endeavor because he wants to share his wife's interests. But he is a rare bird.

Most of the time the man assumes that shared companionship in marriage means that his wife will share his interests.

That is just a word of explanation to a wife who thinks her husband is unfair because although she has learned to fish, play golf, and to enjoy going to baseball games with her husband, she can't drag him to a concert, dance recital, or art exhibit.

She asks, "Don't you think he is being unfair and selfish?"

HUSBANDS, WIVES MUST ACCEPT EACH OTHER

Let's say instead that he is just being a perfectly normal man. He enjoys his wife's company—but only if he is doing what he likes to do.

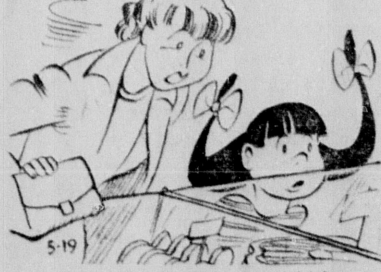

That probably isn't fair. But that is how things are and there is no use in a woman's becoming resentful because her husband behaves like most men.

Men and women have to accept each other as they are. And one thing most wives have to accept is the fact that if they are to enjoy the companionship of their husbands they will have to learn to like what their husbands like—instead of trying to get their husbands to like their interests.

And they shouldn't ruin the companionship they are able to create by following where their husbands lead, by taking the attitude, "If I share his interests, he ought to share mine."

That kind of a "like can only lead to quarrels and misunderstandings—the like of which real companionship can't survive.

Teenager, Boy's Friends Save Life By Quick Action

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Quick action by a 15-year-old junior high school student and five playmates Wednesday night saved the life of a nine-year-old boy who was near suffocation after being buried in a sand pile.

The victim, Robert Luken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luken, was playing in a huge sand pile stored at a Mississippi Lime Co. plot when a sudden slide buried him.

A companion, 12-year-old Tom Hackworth, called for help and five boys playing nearby responded.

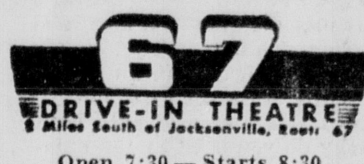

Patrolman Walter Conrad said that Warren Wood, Jr., 15, calling on his Boy Scout training, was applying artificial respiration when only the head and chest of the Luken boy had been uncovered.

Conrad said the victim's face was blue when he arrived on the scene. Conrad pulled the boy from the sand and he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where his condition was described as improved today.

HINDU WOMEN GET DIVORCE RIGHT

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—President Rajendra Prasad has signed the new marriage law giving Hindu women the right to demand divorces for the first time in 5,000 years, it was announced today. The law also restricts Hindus to one wife. Although few have more than one, polygamy has been permitted in some Hindu sects.

CHURCHILL CAMPAIGNS—Former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill emphasizes a point as he opens his Parliamentary re-election campaign in his Woodford constituency. The 80-year-old statesman traded verbal bricks with Labor leader Attlee, charging that the latter was a "piebald," because he had to shift from Right to Left to accommodate different party factions. The Conservatives, several polls report, will double their Parliament margin in the general elections at the end of the month.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst
President Eisenhower's revelation that America's economic policy toward Communist countries is under review reopens a matter which has troubled the Western allies for years.

None of the other free countries has been as rigid as the United States about holding back from any sort of trade which would increase the military potential of the Red bloc.

On occasion the other allies have raised loud voices against restrictions insisted upon by the United States, which she was able to enforce for a time because she was helping to support them.

Now the American economic aid program for the Western countries is being cut down or has ended, and her voice in such matters is neither so loud nor so insistent. Not long ago the list of restricted commodities was greatly reduced.

Other considerations, such as a bargaining point, have brought the President to a position which is more or less traditional in international affairs—that trade is an important diplomatic weapon.

It is true that trade which aids an enemy economically also increases his war potential. Every TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Vasil Petroff Sviliansky, who came to the United States from Bulgaria in 1939 with a round-trip ticket, will leave Saturday on the long-delayed return journey—unless fate intervenes for the fifth time.

The outbreak of World War II first prevented his return. Then four additional times arrangements were made for the trip back to Communist-dominated Bulgaria. Each time weather or sickness forced cancellation.

Sviliansky, 72, says he wants to spend his remaining years with his two sons and daughter in Sofia, Bulgaria.

Prisoners paroled included Charles Keel of Morgan county who has served 19 years of a one year to life term. He was convicted in Morgan county in connection with the burglary of the William Dunaway restaurant on East Vandavia Road near Nichols Park.

Other prisoners from this area who were paroled include: William Franklin of Macoupin county, who served one year of a six year term; Dean Johnson of Pike county, who has served five years and 11 months of an eight to 10 year term; Richard Moran of Cass county who has served one year and one month of a one to two year sentence.

Missing Friends Of Ex-Con May Have Flown Out

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Circumstances surrounding the mysterious disappearance of two former associates of ex-convict Frank "Buster" Wortman were checked again by police today in the light of two new developments.

Police said a woman, whose name was withheld, told them Wednesday of seeing shots fired from a car at a black Cadillac similar to the one owned by Kenneth Mueller, one of the missing men.

The woman told officers the shooting occurred as the cars sped along side by side on State street early Monday morning when the mystery car suddenly spurted ahead and shots were fired from the back window. Officers said she told them there were three or more persons in the car and two men in the Cadillac.

Mueller and Barney T. (Chick) Haver Jr., who shared an apartment with him, are missing. Haver also is a former Wortman associate.

Officers also received a report that Haver and Mueller, after "lying low" somewhere in the area all day Tuesday after the shooting episode, had left in an airplane piloted by Haver sometime Tuesday night.

A plane registered in the name of Haver, a licensed pilot, was missing from his hangar at Parks Metropolitan Airport near here. The airport is used for private planes and does not require filing of flight plans.

Airport attendants told of last seeing the plane Tuesday night and a man believed to be Haver giving it a pre-flight check before it was seen taking off.

The two men's disappearance followed reports that Wortman recently had moved to take control of baseball and horse race betting in the St. Louis area.

Mueller and Haver once worked at Wortman's Terrace Lounge where an upstairs apartment recently was raided in a gambling inquiry by Police Commissioner Russell T. Beebe.

Beebe's car was bombed three days after the raid.

Mueller's bullet-riddled, blood-stained car was found parked in his driveway Monday by police who were looking for him and Haver for questioning about the bombing.

Bloodstains also were found leading to the apartment and more stains were on his bed and a towel. A bloody shirt and slacks were found in the closet.

Blue Lustre
makes colors bright and clear

Blue Lustre is a concentrate that mixes with water to produce a foam that can be brushed into carpets. There's no soaking, the pile doesn't sog or mat... rugs dry soft and fluffy, colors are bright and clear. After carpet has been cleaned, a new stain or traffic lane can be foamed away safely... Blue Lustre leaves no ring. You use a long-handled brush in a standing position... it's just like playing shuffleboard. No hands and knees work required. Blue Lustre is gentle... doesn't harm fine fabrics. Cleans Oriental rugs and overstuffed furniture as efficiently as carpet. It's economical, too! One-half gallon of the concentrate (2.59) will clean three 9x12-ft. rugs. Also available in quarts (1.39) and gallon (4.95) sizes.

MURRAYVILLE GIRL TO ENTER VALPARAISO

VALPARAISO, Ind.—Carol F. Strang of Murrayville has been accepted for admission to Valparaiso University, beginning in September, 1955.

Miss Strang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cary F. Strang, will be graduated from Jacksonville High School, Jacksonville.

ANY VOLUNTEERS?—Sgt. Orvie shows how he stops a fleeing "suspect" at police dog training kennels at Dearborn, Mich. The dogs learn to be vicious or gentle on command, can disarm a criminal suspect, jump into a car and hold the occupants, and even go into a burning building without finching. They are trained with the aid of four teen-aged boys who are well padded for the job. Like Ray Swett, above, Swett knows how it feels to have a dog's sharp teeth bite into his flesh. That's why finding live "robbers" for dogs to chew on is the hardest part in training dogs for police work, according to trainer Charles Art, who operates the kennels.

NEW BOOST FOR CRIPPLES

Although still in the experimental stage, a new-type wheel chair promises to make life easier for cripples and increase their self-reliance. Retractable steel legs will boost the chair over curbs, previously an insurmountable wall blocking the chairborne from the pleasures of a solo shopping tour or a trip to the movies. Designed by engineers of New York University under a grant from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the experimental model vaults curbs by means of cylinders and cables which operate four legs, one for each wheel. The patient need apply no more than 10 pounds of force. Chair, which is collapsible to be easily transported, was demonstrated recently in New York City for Steelways Magazine.

Jamie Coffman of Whiteville, Tenn., lowers front steel legs (arrow) on experimental chair to boost wheels over curb.

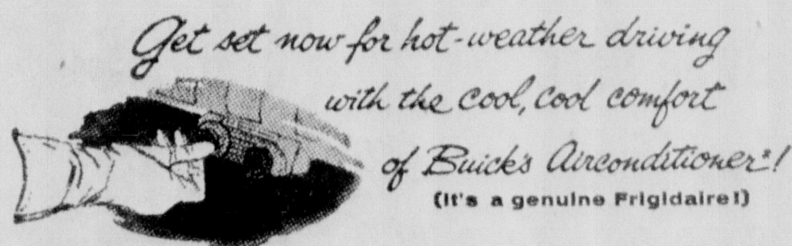

Front steel legs retracted, she uses rear leg action to finish climb. Jamie is paralyzed from the waist down.

Happy in her new-found self-reliance, Jamie continues on her tour of the city, without a curb-care in the world.

You can make it plenty cool in the Hottest-Selling Buick in History

Get set now for hot-weather driving with the cool, cool comfort of Buick's Airconditioner! (It's a genuine Frigidaire!)

How would you like to drive in movie-house coolness—stay fresh and unwilted no matter what the outside temperature reaches?

That's what you do when you boss a beauty like this one—and dial the cooling comfort you want with Buick's Airconditioner.

Cooled, filtered outside air comes flooding into the car's interior. In a matter of minutes, it's cooled down to the temperature you want—even though the car has been standing under the summer sun for hours.

And it stays cool, even in slow-moving traffic on a hot and breezeless day when the outside air seems to be almost at oven heat.

But that's not all.

Inside air, no matter how smoke-filled it may be, is continually replenished by the Airconditioner with a fresh supply of filtered outside air—and that's pure bliss.

Even when cooling is not needed, Buick's Airconditioner is a blessing and a joy. It lets you ride in clean and quiet comfort with windows closed on dusty, windy and rainy days. It's a year-round boon—and well worth its first and only cost.

So why not look into this marvel—and especially into the car it goes with?

For this year's Buick is the most phenomenally successful Buick of all time.

Styled to daring new boldness, powered to new record levels, sparked to spectacular performance by the whip-quick getaway and bettered gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—Buick today is soaring in sales as never before—moving more firmly than ever into the tight circle of America's best sellers.

Come see us this week and we'll quote you prices that are making nobody but our competition hot under the collar.

*Optional at extra cost on all 4-Door Sedans and Riviera Models. †Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have chosen the occasion of the Austrian treaty and the projected Big Four conference to re-emphasize their interest in Russia's satellite states.

Dulles said Tuesday night that the satellites have now seen the Red army start rolling back, for the first time in 10 years. "It is going to create a desire, a mounting desire, on the part of these people to get the same freedom from this type of occupation."

Dulles has stressed, since long before he was secretary of state, the importance of keeping the idea of eventual liberty alive among the peoples of Eastern Europe.

Wednesday morning the President returned to the theme, indicating that the United States might go into a Big Four conference with the idea of trying to roll back the Iron Curtain.

One of the important and so far insoluble factors of the Allied position in Europe is that, no matter how negotiations might go, the Western democracies cannot just walk off and forget the subjugated nations.

There have even been suggestions that they might agree to some sort of neutral zone in Europe, including Germany, if Russia would throw in the satellites under some arrangement which would truly free them from the interference of international communism.

This business of international communism is, of course, the one concrete, lasting fact at the bottom of all efforts to arrange settlements. As long as it remains a prime weapon of Russian policy, so long will it be impossible to consider Russia anything except an enemy.

That means any settlements will be temporary, subject to constant Communist maneuvering, with the fear that Russia will revert to force generating perpetual new tensions.

That is why Eisenhower and Dulles have presented their new hopefulness for some break in the cold war with repeated qualifications. The theme of keeping strong, keeping alert, hoping for the best but determined not to be surprised by the worst, has been made more important than ever by the new situation.

Pittsfield Defeats Crimsons 4-2 To Cop District

Bluffs Scores 4 Runs In 6th To Defeat ISD 4-2 In PMBC Finale

BLUFFS—(Special)—Coach Harold Hillman's Bluffs Bluejays took advantage of a Tiger error to score four runs in the bottom of the sixth after two were out to defeat the Tigers 4-2 and capture second place in the final PMBC standings.

The loss was ISD's third of the year to go with 10 wins while the Bluejays ended their PMBC season with only one loss thus taking over sole possession of second place in the standings.

Big 10 Baseball Enters Final Round Of Play

CHICAGO (P)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers will try this weekend to nail down their first Big Ten baseball crown in 20 years.

Defending champion Michigan State and Ohio State have a chance to do the Gophers wrong in the final round of conference diamond play Friday and Saturday.

In Friday's round of single games, pacesetter Minnesota (9-3) is at Wisconsin (3-8), while runnerup Michigan State (8-4) and third-place Ohio State (6-3) tangle at Columbus, Ohio.

Saturday's twin bill round, closing the 15-game conference season, finds Minnesota at Northwestern (5-6); Michigan State at Indiana (4-6); and Ohio State host to Michigan (7-5).

Michigan which also has an outside title chance plays at Indiana in a Friday single game. Also on Friday, Illinois (5-5) is at Purdue (4-6) and Iowa (3-7) is at Northwestern.

Saturday's doubleheader round is completed with Illinois at Purdue and Iowa at Wisconsin.

2 Small College Loops Hold Track Meets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Illinois college conferences, the College Conference of Illinois, and the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, will hold championship meets in track, tennis and golf this weekend.

The IIAAC meets will be held at Western Illinois State of Macomb with the two non-Illinois members, Michigan Normal and Central Michigan, favored in track, host Western in golf and Illinois Normal in tennis.

The CCI track meet at Elmhurst finds Wheaton College favored to recapture the team crown. Augustana is picked to take the tennis title, also at Elmhurst, while defending champion Millikin is a slight favorite in golf at Woodridge and golf this weekend.

The IIAAC track records may fall in six events with the mark most likely to fall being the 6-4 high jump standard. Floyd Smith, Northern Illinois State freshman, already has cleared 6-8.

Five CCI track records are threatened, including both the 100 and 200 sprint marks. Wheaton's unbeaten Dick Hollatz and Augustana's Dave Exline both have bettered the 10.1 century record. Both Hollatz and Dick Quisenberry of Millikin have bettered the 220 meet mark of 22.1.

Dropo Gives His Version In 'Slap' Suit

CHICAGO (P)—A Chicago White Sox spokesman Thursday questioned the merits of a $25,000 suit filed in Little Rock Wednesday charging that Sox first baseman Walt Dropo slapped a young spectator at an exhibition game there April 6.

The suit filed in behalf of 14-year-old Tommy Glover, was filed against the club and Dropo. It alleged Dropo entered the grandstand and "wantonly and maliciously" slapped the boy.

Roy J. Egan, Sox attorney, said Dropo's version of the incident was this: Dropo was involved in a "pepper game," batting short hits on the sidelines and a boy ran out and intercepted the ball. Dropo then took the ball away from him.

"Dropo claims he never touched the boy," Egan said, "and that the boy then directed obscene language at him."

Egan, noting the suit was filed in an Arkansas state court (Pulaski Circuit Court), said he doubted a summons could be served on Dropo or the Sox in Illinois.

Johnson Tells Commission He Never Threw Fight

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Light heavyweight boxer Harold Johnson told the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission Thursday he did not throw the May 6 nationally televised fight to Julio Mederos.

Asked if he had been offered money to lose the fight or if it had been suggested that he lose, Johnson replied:

"If you mean did I throw the fight, I certainly did not. I fought the best I could. I wasn't myself. I don't know what I was drugged. I don't know what was wrong."

Johnson was a witness almost two full days in the commission hearing into the fight fiasco, launched after hospital tests showed Johnson was drugged with a barbiturate.

The 26-year-old Philadelphia Negro, in the third day of the probe, testified he had rejected his manager's offer to call a doctor to the dressing room shortly before the fight started.

Johnson, manager Tommy Loughrey, matchmaker Pete Moran, trainers Clarence Davidson and Joseph Rowland, and Lou Gross, a second, are charged by the commission with action detrimental to boxing. Part of the allegations is that six men participated in a "sham, fake or collusive boxing match."

The fighter collapsed in the second round of the fight against Mederos who won a technical knockout victory.

FAN BREEZES

KENT DAWSON and ISD's Jack Rampley, along with coaches Phil Clary and Jim Spink, leave this morning for Champaign and the annual Illinois State Track and Field finals. The JHS and ISD products earned the right to take part in this year's state meet with victories in the Macomb district held Saturday. Rampley came through in fine fashion to capture the 440-yard dash while Dawson set a new district record in the discus with a heave of 147 feet. The toss broke a 13-year-old mark set in 1942 by M. Quiller of Pleasant Hill. Quiller tossed the "plate" 142 feet, eight and a half inches. Dawson also set a Jacksonville High School mark this year, a record which was also established in 42.

Dawson is another good example of the old adage "practice makes perfect." If there is a better example we would like to hear about it. The 6-1, 190 pound senior spent every free moment on the field trying to better his game. He is what the coaches term "a coaches player." He shows up for practice every night and in no practice is called, he shows up anyway. He doesn't just practice track during track season. He works out the year around. We understand from various reports a weight man must also do considerable running to keep his legs in shape. This is what Dawson did and it payed off because he has developed into JHS's top 440 man and a good relay anchor man.

Last fall, the fleet performer reported to coach Bob Kraushaar for football for the first time during his high school career. Because of his speed and size he moved into one of the halfback spots and was one of the mainstays of the 1955 grid squad. Kent has announced plans to enroll at Western State next fall and go on with track. His showing in the Macomb district didn't hurt his chances, since the meet was held at the college field.

We can learn a little from the "Dawson story". There are quite a few of us who talk a good game, but when it comes down to where we have to work hard and long to reach our goal and become better than average, we slack off a little and decide to just slide by and stay an average performer.

Without a doubt, Dawson and Rampley will give Jacksonville two fine representatives in today's running.

Interest in the local stock car program is growing. The fair-ground office has been plagued with telephone calls from all over central Illinois inquiring about this Friday's racing program. Last week the program was canceled due to the wet grounds. Present indications are for a large number of cars and drivers competing for top honors and prizes at the race track tonight.

Nell Chevrolet softball team of Greenfield is seeking games. The Greenfield home games are played under the lights at the football field. Anyone interested can contact Russell Shields Jr. by phoning 120-4 Greenfield.

Paul Russo Crashes

INDIANAPOLIS (P)—Paul Russo, 41, one of the few active race drivers who competed in the Indianapolis 500-mile race before World War II, escaped injury Thursday when his Wolcott Special crashed into the Speedway retaining wall.

The accident happened shortly after the funeral of Manuel Ayulo, of Burbank, Calif., another veteran driver who was hurt fatally Monday in another practice race crash.

Ayulo's car hit a concrete retaining wall at the southwest turn, almost head on, but Russo's racer whipped into the southeast wall tail first. It is out of the race.

Russo, of Fort Worth, Tex., was an almost certain qualifier this weekend for the 500-mile race May 30.

George Washington was the most widely traveled American official of his age.

Giants Edge Braves 3-2; Hold 2nd Place

MILWAUKEE (P)—Willie Mays drove in the New York Giants' first run with a single and the winning run with a long fly as the Giants edged Milwaukee 3-2, Thursday to regain second place in the National League.

Mays plated the first run in the fourth and drove in the winning marker in the fifth. Don Mueller's right field double tied the count in the fifth.

The triumph set New York three percentage points above the idle Chicago Cubs and dropped Milwaukee deeper into fifth place.

Jim Hearn made his mark 6-2, with a 10-hitter.

One of the hits off Hearn was Hank Aaron's leadoff homer in the second which gave Milwaukee a 1-0 lead. The Braves used two of their other nine hits for a run in the fourth to pull ahead 2-1.

The Giants got rid of starter Ernie Johnson, in the fifth.

Rocky's Uncle Becomes Center Of Attraction

RIPA TEATINA, Italy (P)—Stefano Marchegiano, whose nephew beat Don Cockell of England Monday night in a boxing match, still was the center of attraction Thursday in this village.

It happens whenever Rocky Marciano, born Rocco Marchegiano of Italian immigrant parents, defends his world heavyweight crown. A good portion of Ripa Teatina's 4,100 inhabitants look up Uncle Stefano to congratulate him.

Rocky's dad, Pierino Marchegiano, was born here. He emigrated to the United States in 1917. But villagers still think of it as Rocky's own home town.

Big 10, CBS Agree On TV Of Grid Games

NEW YORK (P)—The Big Ten Conference and the Columbia Broadcasting System Thursday concluded an agreement for the regional televising of Big Ten football games on the five dates allotted to regional TV under the 1955 National Collegiate AA control plan.

CBS also will televise Big Ten basketball games, beginning early in December, in a program similar to that carried last winter.

The agreement was announced jointly by Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, and Sig Mickelson, CBS vice president.

The NCAA plan this year calls for national football telecasts on eight dates, including Thanksgiving, and five regional dates. The national program will be carried by the National Broadcasting Co.

The Big Ten games to be televised regionally are:

Sept. 24—Washington vs. Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Oct. 8—Wisconsin vs. Purdue at LaFayette, Ind.

Oct. 22—Michigan vs. Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Nov. 5—Wisconsin vs. Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

Nov. 12—Iowa vs. Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio.

In addition, three games involving four Big Ten teams are on the national program. They are Ohio State at Stanford Oct. 1, Notre Dame at Michigan State Oct. 15, and Iowa at Michigan Oct. 20. Thus viewers in the Big Ten area will be able to watch a conference team every Saturday from Sept. 24 to Nov. 12.

Young Man Just Out Of Army Innocent Victim

NEW YORK (P)—A young man from Cincinnati, Ohio, just out of the Army, had to be rescued by police Thursday from a group of screaming Brooklyn baseball fans who mistook him for Dodger hurler Jim Hughes.

Dudley C. Bowiby, 24, was the innocent victim of Dodger enthusiasm at LaGuardia Airport where more than 500 of the faithful gathered to welcome the Brooklyn team home from their western road trip.

The fans backed Bowiby against the wall of the Terminal Building, insisting on his autograph. Bowiby pleaded he wasn't their man and even waved his driver's license as proof. Nobody would believe him.

Finally police broke through the mob and whisked Bowiby to the press quarters where he waited until the fans dispersed. He said he was released from the Army Wednesday night in San Francisco and flew here to be with his parents, in New York on vacation.

The Dodgers arrived at 1:30 p. m. from St. Louis.

Saukees Edge Jacks With 2 Runs In 3rd On Errors And A Walk

PITTSFIELD—(Special) — The hosts Pittsfield Saukees scored two runs in the third inning, taking advantage of two Jacksonville errors and a walk and went on to defeat the Jacks 4-2 in the finals of the district tournament. The victory moves the Saukees into the Springfield sectional where they play the winner of last night's Springfield-Lincoln game.

Jacksonville's Billy Lewis and Pittsfield's Tom Petty hooked up in a fine pitching dual with errors playing a vital role in the scoring of both sides. The Jacks collected six hits off Petty while the hosts were held to four safeties by Lewis.

The Jacks drew first blood as they pushed across a run in the top of the second. A double by Danny Woodward, and Max Roegge's single provided the tally.

However, the lead was short lived as the Saukees came right back in their half of the frame to tie the score. Singles by Plattner and Curry accounted for the run.

The hosts took a 3-1 lead in the bottom of the third as they scored a pair of runs without a hit. A walk and two Crimsons errors led to Pittsfield's scoring.

The Jacks final run of the game came in the seventh on an error and Steve Hill's single.

Pittsfield scored its other run in the sixth on a walk, a single and an error and it took a great throw by Larry Scott from centerfield to nail a second run at the plate.

Lewis struck out five while Petty also whiffed five. The Jacks ended their 1955 season with 11 victories to go with two setbacks. The defeats coming from the hands of Quincy and Pittsfield.

Barbara Romack Defeated By Scottish Woman

PORTURUSH, Northern Ireland (P)—Tiny Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., limping in severe pain from a swollen ankle, saw her bid for the British Women's Golf Championship crushed Thursday by Mrs. Jessie Valentine, a 40-year-old Scottish matron, who won the 36-hole final match, 7 and 6.

The pert, 22-year-old U.S. Amateur champion, her usually steady game in fragments, never had a chance. She lost two of the first three holes and fell farther back as play progressed.

"I did my best," Miss Romack said dejectedly afterward. "It wasn't enough. The ankle had too much wear and tear over the past two weeks."

The California miss saved nickles and dimes from her insurance job for three years to make this bid for a title won by two other Americans—Labe Dickrikson Zaharias and Louise Suggs.

But after sweeping into the finals and gaining the favorite's role she developed a pulled tendon in her left ankle and she couldn't put full weight on her foot.

She had no extension of the injury except that it probably was caused by the strain of excessive golf since her arrival here.

ORIOLES PUBLICITY MAN QUITS TO STUDY MINISTRY

BALTIMORE (P)—Dick Armstrong quit publicizing the Baltimore Orioles Thursday to study for the Presbyterian ministry.

The 31-year-old Baltimorean said he has accepted a scholarship at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Armstrong has headed the Orioles' Publicity Department since shortly after the St. Louis baseball franchise was transferred to Baltimore in 1953.

Chicago Schools Expected To Dominate State High School Track, Golf Meets

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (P)—Downstate schools will do well this weekend if they avoid a complete shut out by unusually powerful Chicago area entries in the state high school track, golf and tennis championships.

Preliminaries will open the annual prep sports carnival Friday with the windup coming Saturday. Close competition for team titles is expected all along the line with only the golf crown appearing a possibility — although remote—for the downstaters.

Quincy and Moline may contend on the links, but New Trier of Winnetka and Leyden of Chicago are favorites.

Tennis honors could be a battle royal among Oak Park, seeking its eighth straight state title, Hinsdale, Blue Island, Evanston and New Trier.

New Trier's Indians also are pounding war drums for the big prize—the track and field championship. They possibly rate a slight edge over Oak Park, a perennial winner or contender, in another low-scoring scrap for points in the team race. Blue Island Wendell Phillips of Chicago and North Chicago also have fine prospects. The team crown has remained in the north 30 years.

Twenty points should be sufficient to win. LaGrange scored 16 to take it last year while Waukegan tallied 15 and Oak Park 12.

Although new records may not be realized, the field of individual performers is well balanced and thrilling competition is assured.

The feature race easily could be the 440 with Raleigh Floyd of North Chicago favored but strongly challenged by York's Ron Etherton, Miles' John Ravencroft, Oak Park's Cliff Corzatt, Bloom's Bob Green and Evanston's Mike Minard.

The quarter mile record of .48.3 was set in 1932 and is the oldest in the books. Floyd's best this season is .49.5 and Etherton has turned in .49.7.

Etherton also has the state's best 100-yard dash, .09.8, but may pass up this event to concentrate on the 440.

One of the meet's top individual performances could be by Willie May of Blue Island in both hurdles. He has matched the state mark of .19.4 in the 180-yard lows and has been only one-tenth second off the .14.2 record for the 120-yard highs.

Other top performances this season include:

High jump—Jim Moore, Tilden Tech of Chicago, 6-2; 220 dash—Vern Estes, North Chicago, .21.6; 880 relay—New Trier, 1:30.3; pole 1:57.7; broad jump—Dick Abner, East Peoria, 22-17.

1 mile—Jimmy Bowers, DeKalb, 8:80 relay—New Trier, 1:30.3; pole vault—Bobby Joe Mason, Centralia, 12-7; Mile relay—York, 3:26.0. Discus—Bill Hickman, Oak Park, 160-6; shot put—Larry Stewart, Galesburg, 54-11 1/2.

FLOUR MILL BUYING LIFTS NEW CROP WHEAT FUTURES

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—A little flour mill buying lifted new crop wheat futures while the old crop May month was closed out without any excitement on the Board of Trade Thursday.

There wasn't much doing in the flour May deliveries which were closed out, either. Only price change of any importance was in May soybeans, up several cents in the final few minutes.

Wheat finished unchanged to 1/4 higher, corn unchanged to 3/4 higher, oats 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, 1/2-1 1/2 lower, soybeans unchanged to 3/4 higher and lard 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Mill buying of wheat outweighed receipt of more moisture in the Southwest, some areas of which now are complaining more about floods than about the drought. Brokers said mills were expecting a pickup in demand for flour from bakers, whose stocks reportedly are low.

The late slump in May soybeans was purely a technical matter. Bean meal eased again in the cash market and at $52.00 a ton was at a new low for the past five years. Bean oil, however, gained 1/2 to sell at 11 1/2 to 12 cents a pound.

Weather generally was considered favorable in the Midwest for advancement of both new crop soybeans and corn. Receipts of cash corn were moderate at 90 cars and prices were quoted as firm in the spot market.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—A salable supply of 10,000 hogs cleared the market Thursday but not without some price sacrifice on lower quality offerings. The top of $19.50 reached a new 1955 high point, although only about 100 head sold at the mark.

Lightweight butcher hogs sold early at steady to strong prices but others were 25 cents lower and sows were unevenly weak to 50 cents lower. Most butchers brought $14.25 to $19.25. Sows were $12.25 to $15.00 generally, a few getting up to $15.50. Shippers took 3,000 hogs.

A lightly supplied cattle market, with only 3,000 head and 300 calves, found a mixed reception. Young offerings were steady to strong but bulls were 50 cents to $1.00 lower. Holstein cows were strong to 50 cents higher but others steady to weak.

Odd prime steers sold up to $26.00 but good and choice steers heifers and yearlings brought $19.50 to $23.50. Good fed cows made $15.50 but bulls were down to $16.00 and less. Vealers topped at $26.00 for a few head testing prime.

A moderately active market developed for the 1,500 sheep on hand. Lambs were strong to 50 cents higher and ewes steady. Shorn lambs ranged downward from $19.75 while small lots of native spring lambs were $24.50 and less. Best price on shorn slaughter ewes was $6.00.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The corporate bond market advanced modestly Thursday, but most U. S. government bonds eased.

Railroads and industrials convertible into common stock led the corporate advance as volume increased to $4,040,000 par value from $3,233,000 Wednesday. Utilities were steady.

Treasury bonds continued Wednesday's downward drift.

In new financing Thursday, an investment banking syndicate managed by Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Co. (Chicago) won $4,895,000 of Sangamon County, Ill., school bonds at auction. Net interest charge was 1.882 per cent. The 1957-75 maturities were reoffered priced to yield from 1.10 to 1.95 per cent interest.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Strong air-crafts provided the basis Thursday for the second straight recovery in the stock market.

The two-day swing ahead was the strongest rally the market has been able to muster in its three-week reaction.

On April 26 the market reached a new record high. Since then it has been in an intermittent decline.

It sold off sharply Monday, was down slightly Tuesday, and Thursday it gathered momentum in a wide recovery.

The rise Thursday started at the opening bell and continued until near the close when prices backed down from their best.

Most major divisions were up including motors, distillers, radio-televisions, railroads, airlines, utilities and a long list of individual issues.

The rise carried prices up $1 to $3 in many cases. There also were some gains running to between $3 and $5.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 70 cents at $162.40. That is $4.40 away from the April 26 record high. Wednesday it gained $1.50 and in the two previous days it lost $2.30.

All three components of the average were ahead—industrials up 90 cents, railroads up 70 cents, and utilities up 40 cents.

Business amounted to 2,380,000 shares. That compares with 2,010,000 shares traded Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly higher on volume of 700,000 shares as compared with 680,000 shares Wednesday.

State Legislature

Reapportionment

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Senate Apportionment Committee voted Thursday to overcome the last apparent obstacle to the introduction next week of a bill mapping brand new Senate and House districts.

Still before the proposal after introduction are full-scale committee hearings and possible efforts to amend the 58 Senate and 59 House territories which are required by a 1954 constitutional amendment.

Speaker Warren Wood (R-Plainfield) told a reporter that when the House gets the bill, possibly Tuesday, he will speed procedure to ram it through.

A promise to fight against such a speedup by filibuster has come, he said, from Rep. George Brydia (R-Prophetstown) and others who are dissatisfied with remapping as planned.

Wood said he contemplates a bill coming in Tuesday and being advanced quickly so the entire House may consider it as a committee on the same day. On Wednesday, amendments would be considered and on Thursday the bill theoretically would be ready for House passage.

By its action, the Senate Apportionment Committee gave final clearance to a map put together by Chicago, northern and southern Illinois subcommittees working on Senate districts.

Agreement Wednesday between the Democrats and Republicans on the Chicago subcommittee removed a threatening blockade to remapping progress.

However, the entire committee decided to reverse the southern Illinois group by adopting its minority report. Besides, it voted to take the original stand of the northern Illinois subcommittee putting Henry and Bureau counties together.

Sen. William F. Hensley, Lawrenceville Republican, sounded the only apparent negative opinion in a voice vote on the southern Illinois minority report which reshapes six districts.

Hensley is given a district comprising Jasper, Crawford, Richland and Lawrence counties.

Sen. Paul Broyles, Mount Vernon Republican, has an area covering Jefferson, Wayne, Edwards and Wabash counties.

Broyles as well as Hensley was dissatisfied with the map as it affects their district but the two were unable to agree on substitutes.

Four other districts newly drawn by the vote are those of Sen. Lloyd Davis (R-Morrisville) in Christian, Shelby and Fayette counties, Sen. W. P. Cuthbertson (R-Carlisle) in Macoupin, Montgomery and Bond counties; Sen. Dwight Friedrich (R-Centralia) in Clinton, Marion, Clay and Effingham counties, and Sen. Robert W. Lyons (R-Oakland) in Douglas, Coles, Cumberland and Clark counties.

The apportionment committee voted in favor of putting Henry and Bureau together and leaving Whiteside with Rock Island and Mercer. This action was urged Wednesday in a hearing by a number of Henry and Bureau County residents who visited the committee and by legislators from the area, excepting Rep. Brydia.

Under the constitutional amendment, the existing 51 districts, which each elected a senator and three representatives, will be set aside for a new arrangement of 58 Senate and 59 House districts.

Cook County will get 30 House districts to 29 for downstate and 24 Senate districts as against 34 for the remaining 101 counties. Downstate now dominates both House and Senate.

A filibuster threat in the Illinois House broke up Thursday's session, forcing adjournment for the week-end about an hour ahead of the usual time.

Some legislators said the protest move, initiated by Rep. John Morris (D-Chadwick), might overshadow further disruptive tactics next week when the politically touchy subject of reapportionment comes up.

Less than six weeks remain of the 1955 General Assembly session, with all major problems still to be decided.

To Spur Action

By holding up action on Senate bills, he apparently sought to spur senators to get moving on major issues thus far neglected in hopes the blockade of their measures in the House would be lifted.

Later in the day, the Senate took note of Morris' protest and disposed of 39 House bills on its calendar.

Morris' ire was aroused after Sen. David Davis (R-Bloomington) broke up a Senate Education Committee hearing Wednesday on a Morris bill. After a witness testified against the bill, Davis questioned the presence of a quorum—a majority of committee members—and hearing ended, leaving the bill stalled in committee. The bill, passed by the House, would require competitive bids on food hauling contracts let by the state school superintendent in connection with the school lunch program.

In talking with newsmen, Morris criticized Senate's failure to push along important measures pending there, raising the prospect that the House would have to pass on them with little opportunity for study in the turbulent tangle of days.

Some of the issues on which only preliminary work has been done include Gov. Stratton's proposal for raising the state sales tax, judicial reform, overhauling the state tax system and aiding cities, along with legislative reapportionment.

Jacksonville Student Is Junior Historian

Grace Church MYF Visits At Pere Marquette

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Grace church enjoyed a trip by caravan to Pere Marquette park near Grafton last Sunday, May 15. Activities for the day included hiking, sight-seeing and picnic supper on one of the high points at the Park.

Plans are being discussed to continue meetings of the Fellowship throughout the summer months. At a recent Youth Rally held at Hull, Ill., Miss Wanda Tipps of Jacksonville was elected secretary of the district MYF. Miss Tipps has served as the president of the Grace church fellowship for the past year.

New officers have been elected for the coming year and will take over their duties the first Sunday in June. They are: president, Jerry Samples; vice president, Barbara Dunlap; treasurer, Linda Lowe; and devotion chairman, Patsy Mann.

On Sunday, May 22, members of the Grace church MYF will meet with Carol McDevitt at Franklin for a hamburger fry. Cars will leave the church at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Joanna Norris, eighth grade student at David Prince Junior High school, has been chosen Junior Historian of the year for which she will receive the Governor's Award. Joanna is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis W. Norris, 339 E. State Street.

Thirty-eight winners throughout Illinois will be honored in ceremonies at the Centennial building in Springfield Friday, May 20, at 1:30 p.m. A tour of the governor's mansion will follow the presentation.

JOANNA NORRIS

Miss Norris' winning article, "Abraham Lincoln in the Thirtieth Congress," first published in the Illinois Junior Historian in February of this year, was prepared and written in connection with her social studies and English classes taught by Miss Irah Lewis. A copy is now on display in the Lincoln Room in Springfield.

The Illinois Junior Historian is a statewide magazine written and illustrated entirely by students of junior high school age with the purpose of interesting them in the history of their State and encouraging them to think and write clearly. Award winning articles and illustrations are selected on the basis of merit from all those accepted for publication during the current year.

Indict Calhoun Bandit For Bank Cashier's Death

Clifford Eugene Hubbard, one of the two would-be robbers of the Kampsville bank on the night of May 1, which ill-fated attempt resulted in the deaths of Harry Waldheuser, cashier of the bank, and Thomas Underwood, Hubbard's partner, and the serious injury of Hubbard and Mrs. Waldheuser, was indicted on three counts by the Calhoun county grand jury, which convened this week.

One of the indictments was for murder, with the other two charging Hubbard with armed robbery and kidnapping. Judge A. Clay Williams of Pittsfield presided over the grand jury and Calhoun county State's Attorney J. Clark Anderson presented the evidence to the jury.

Since Hubbard has already been indicted by the federal court with four counts carrying the possible death penalty under federal statutes, he will probably first be tried by federal authorities as soon as he has recuperated sufficiently from his injuries he received when the car in which they were fleeing from Kampsville was wrecked.

Hubbard was first taken to Boyd Memorial hospital in Carrollton, where he remained under heavy guard for several days, after which he was moved by federal authorities to Springfield for further treatment and safe keeping.

Mrs. Waldheuser, who suffered internal injuries and a fractured left ankle when the car was wrecked, is now showing marked improvement in the Carrollton hospital, where she has been a patient since the accident.

You're Invited Today To Tour JHS-Built Home

The general public is invited to inspect the new six room home built by the Jacksonville High School building trades class. Open House hours are from two in the afternoon until nine in the evening. The location is 516 Woodland, just south of Mound avenue. Members of the class will serve as guides for those wishing to inspect the six room home. Dial Phone System In Action At Winchester

WINCHESTER — A new, modern $200,000-plus telephone system went into operation for Winchester residents Tuesday evening as Illinois Telephone Company engineers cut in the city's dial automatic system.

Within seconds of the 9 o'clock cut-over time the electric switches began tripping as Winchester subscribers put their new system into operation along with Mayor Walmsley, who had to hurry to place his official first call over the new equipment to Mayor Hoagland of Jacksonville.

With the introduction of Pioneer as the Winchester exchange name, subscribers will have to get used to a whole new set of calling habits. Instructions on how to use the dial automatic telephone were included with the new telephone directory. Also, an amazing electronic secretary has been incorporated in the equipment to help subscribers who might dial an un-assigned number. In such a case, you would hear a clear distinct voice say, "The number you have dialed is an un-assigned number. Will you please consult your directory and dial the number again."

Many new subscribers were added to the system as miles of rural lines and cables went up. Additional circuits to Bluffs and Jacksonville were installed along with the conversion. Woman Gives Birth To Sixth Child Without Doctor TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Ellerbe W. Carter Sr., an advocate of natural and painless birth, put aside household chores for about an hour Thursday to bring her eighth child into the world.

The infant was a blue-eyed daughter, the sixth child born to Mrs. Carter without a doctor in attendance. She is in her 40s, and her husband, Gen. Ellerbe Carter Sr., formerly of Louisville, Ky., is 71. He remained at his real estate office.

Ruthie Lee, a Negro housemaid, was in the home when the baby was born but Mrs. Carter said the maid because so excited she was of no assistance.

A personal friend, Mary Lou Culbertson, writer for the Daytona Beach News-Journal, was called to the house but arrived a moment after the birth. She said Mrs. Carter was washing and bathing the baby when she arrived.

"Mrs. Carter took a drink of whisky just before the birth, but for the relaxation she believes necessary, not just for the drink," said the writer. "When I left she was dusting a piano in the living room, the baby asleep in its crib."

Mrs. Carter said she had her first unattended birth after reading a book, "Natural Childbirth," by Dr. Grantly S. Reed. Now, after six such births, she said she had this message for expectant mothers:

"Don't be afraid to bring a new life into the world. There's no pain if you relax."

Antitrust Query Arises In Sale Of Illinois Terminal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department Thursday posed a series of antitrust questions about the proposed sale of Illinois Terminal Railway system to 11 major railroads operating in the Midwest.

The department submitted the questions to the Interstate Commerce Commission, where the purchase application is pending. The department said the commission should come up with answers which might well determine whether the proposal will be approved or rejected.

The 11 railroads have organized a new company, Illinois-Missouri Terminal Co., for the purpose of buying the Illinois Terminal properties for 20 million dollars. These properties include some 245 miles of tracks between Peoria, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo., and a bridge across the Mississippi River at St. Louis.

The prospective purchasers all have connections with Illinois Terminal tracks.

The Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, operating south of Chicago, tried unsuccessfully to buy Illinois Terminal and is now opposing the transfer to the 11-member group, in which it is not included. The Justice Department said its antitrust questions were submitted as a representative of the general public and for the United States as a major freight shipper.

Lydia Liliuokalani was the last Hawaiian queen. She was deposed by a revolution shortly before the United States took over.

Transport Rolls Into Parked Car; Woman Injured

A large transport truck loaded with concrete pipe for Jacksonville's water transmission line to the river rolled down an incline in the 900 block on Hardin avenue Wednesday afternoon, colliding with the rear of a parked car, causing injury of a woman's ankle.

Mrs. Alice Templin, 1609 Elmwood, was sitting in the car waiting for another woman, and her two children were in the back seat at the time the big transport rolled driverless from the place it had been parked.

David H. Nelson, Oswego, Ill., a driver for White Brothers of Dayton, Ohio, told police he brought his transport to a stop on Hardin avenue, set the air brake, and walked a short distance to ask where to deliver his load of pipe.

Nelson said he saw the transport rolling and attempted to catch it, but it rolled north down an incline and into the back of the parked car.

Mrs. Templin had her left foot on one of the pedals and the impact of the truck caused an injury. She was taken to the hospital by her husband, Richard Templin, and remained overnight. Her condition Thursday morning was reported good.

Both children in the car escaped injury.

Lt. Howard Stout and Patrolman Cloyd Wilson went to the place of the accident and rendered assistance. The damaged car was towed to the John Ellis Chevrolet garage.

Jury Returns Verdict Of Guilty In Burglary Case

After nearly nine hours of deliberation, a jury late Thursday night returned a verdict of guilty against Ethel Rogers, 37, of Alton in Morgan County circuit court.

The defendant was charged with helping to burglarize a house at Alexander on September 23, 1953.

The jury took the case at 2:40 p.m. (CDT) Thursday after hearing final arguments from the two attorneys, and reached the verdict at 9:30.

It was near 10:30 when Circuit Judge DeWitt Crow, who had returned to Springfield, reached the courtroom, read the verdict and entered judgment upon it.

Defense attorney Irving Wiseman of Alton immediately made an oral motion to set aside the verdict and judgment and asked for a new trial. He was given 14 days to file a written motion.

The defendant will remain free on $3,000 bond for the two week period.

After the trial, State's Attorney Albert Hall said that the case had been delayed in coming to trial because the defendant was not paroled from the state reformatory for women at Dwight until February of this year.

Virginia F.H.A. Girls Present Dress Revue

VIRGINIA—The F.H.A. members and home economics teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, entertained about two hundred mothers and guests at a tea Tuesday afternoon in the Virginia High School gym.

A dress revue preceded the tea. The dresses were made in class by the wearers during the past school term.

Skirts and blouses were modeled by the following girls: Barbara Cox, Beverly Donaldson, Faye Roloff, Kay Hierman, Patsy Turner, Myra Myers, Helen Booth, Ann Marr, Janice Myers, Kay Barber, Carole Griffin, Patricia Newbern, Kay Smith, Rosemary Booth, Mary Cooper, Barbara Wallace, Joan Cox, Carolyn Martin, Sue Fisher, Alice Haywood, Joan Anderson, Carol Kruse, Mary Margaret Saltee and Mary Ann Barrett.

Jumpers were modeled by Kay Barber and Alice Haywood.

Two-piece garments were modeled by Joan Cox, Beverly Martin, Sue Fisher, Jackie McNeal and Barbara Wallace.

Dresses were modeled by Ruby Sittler, Jennie Lou Tucker and Joan Anderson. Marilyn Cox and Carol Kruse modeled their figured dimity dresses.

Sun dresses were modeled by Ann Marr and Luella Jones.

Gingham dresses were modeled by Rosemary Booth and Jennie Lou Tucker.

Pajamas and slip were modeled by Carole Griffin and Patricia Newbern.

Joanne Launer modeled a blue wool and orlon skirt, gray wool and orlon skirt and a lined jacket made of wool and orlon.

The theme of the revue was "A Date With A Dream" and as the curtain went up, Bernice Boyd, as Kathleen O'Neil, was thumbing through her new "Seventeen" magazine, looking for an idea for a suitable dress for a special occasion. After seeing the garments in the revue, she decided to make her dress instead of buying it ready made. Joanne Launer was the commentator.

At the close of the revue, the F.H.A. officers of Ashland High School installed the local 1955-1956 F.H.A. officers. A candlelight service was conducted on the stage from a table covered in white and with red decorations. Officers installed were: Marilyn Bell, president; Jeannie Cox, vice president; Marcia McGhee, secretary; Marilyn Cox, treasurer; Joan Anderson, parliamentarian; Ruby Sittler, historian; Janice Williams, chairman of recreation; Carol Kruse, chairman of public relations; Joanne Launer, degree chairman.

Jersey County Man Celebrates 97th Birthday

JERSEYVILLE—Peter C. Drainer of Westwoods, Jersey County, Illinois, observed the 97th anniversary of his birth Tuesday at the home of his son, H. H. Drainer, where he has been making his home recently.

Up to the past winter, Drainer had resided alone on his farm in the Westwoods locality, and in spite of his extreme age, was able to carry on with the ordinary duties about his home.

The farm on which he resided until recently is composed of 40 acres, and in addition to this tract, he also owns another 172 acres which is not far from the 40 acres known as the home place. The land is farmed on the two premises by his son who resides nearby. All of the sturdy buildings on the old home place were built by Peter Drainer when a much younger man with the assistance of his father, Peter Drainer, Sr., in building the original house.

The home place is eight miles west of Jerseyville and but a short distance from St. Mary's Church. The original house constructed by Drainer and his father was but a two room structure. It was built in the midst of what was then a densely wooded area. He assisted his father in clearing the land, and forty-five years ago another five rooms were added to the original home.

As recently as four years ago, Drainer drove his car, a 1927 Chevrolet on the public highways. He was issued a driver's license by the State of Illinois when he was past 90 years of age.

Drainer has been a life long member of St. Mary's Church, Westwoods.

Girard "Pioneers" Call on Governor and Mrs. Stratton—A group from the Girard Centennial Association presented Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of Governor Stratton, with a Centennial dress. Mrs. Stratton appears to be having trouble figuring out the cape which matches the dress. Shown left to right are: Miss Georgia Donaldson, secretary of the Association; Mrs. Stratton, Governor Stratton, Mrs. Tom Neff and Mrs. Joe Whitworth, both members of the public relations committee; George Nickel, entertainment chairman; Theodore Lay, general centennial chairman, and Dwight Pitman, public relations chairman.

Girard is celebrating its 100th anniversary with a celebration June 17-18. Governor Stratton was presented with a lapel button advertising the event, and a centennial hat. In addition to these gifts Governor Stratton received a certificate making him an honorary citizen of Girard.

'Comics Gave Idea' Says 7-Year-Old Who Slew Playmate

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Police say a 14-year-old boy, held in the hatchet and knife slaying of a 7-year-old playmate, told them "I think I got the idea from reading those horror comic books."

Dr. Douglas Kelley, University of California psychiatrist, said David Drew, the accused boy, was avidly fond of "comic books that depicted torture and throwing people off cliffs."

Police said David admitted killing Stanley Frank Jr., Tuesday and that the fatal blow, with a hatchet, was intentional. Previously he said it was accidental.

Dr. Kelley told Dist. Atty. J. Frank Cookley that David was not legally insane.

Police said David told them "I don't know why I get an urge like that once in a while. I think I got the idea from reading those horror comic books."

Cookley said he may (1) seek the youth's commitment to a state institution, (2) prosecute the case as a juvenile matter, or (3) ask for a formal indictment of murder.

A birthday cake was baked and decorated by the hostess for Mrs. Hattie Nicholson, who observed her eightieth birthday this month. Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Wilkinson were remembered with birthday gifts from their secret pals.

After the potluck dinner the club president, Mrs. Alta Young, opened the business meeting. The club song was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Roll call was answered by reading memory gems. The members wrote notes to members who were sick and unable to be present. After the meeting closed the remainder of the afternoon was spent playing games and visiting.

The hostess presented each member with a pot holder which she had made. Mrs. Addie Westerhold was awarded the door prize, which was given by Mrs. Bessie Hicks. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mildred Wilkinson.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XXXIV
FIVE days after the wired warning, history fulfilled William Pinkerton's final prophecy. Jesse began the forecast killing.

The engineer grumbled, jerking the throttle closed and throwing the sand and steam to the drivers. He had been late getting out of Kansas City, and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific's Train No. 23 was running 20 minutes back of schedule into Cameron station, 64 miles out of K. C.

Train No. 23 was running into something a little more sinister than a late schedule at Cameron station. Three husky, bearded men made their way into her smoker as she pulled out for Gallatin, another 60 miles up the line. They were rough-looking men, their smoker-mates remembered, wearing black broadcloth suits of back-country cut, dirty riding boots and wide, dusty black hats. They spoke quickly among themselves in low guarded tones, pulled their hats over their faces, slumped back in their seats and "went promptly to sleep."

It is to be assumed, from what followed, that this honest slumber was broken now and again by the half-lidded gleam of a professional eye scanning the smoker's assortment of plug hats from beneath those dusty, pulled-down hatbrims—and that on the part of one set of those eyes, at least, the covert regard was shuttered by a chronically sore-lidded blink.

No. 23 pulled into Gallatin, sat coughing nervously for five minutes, chuffed hurriedly on toward Winston, 11 miles ahead. It was 10:29 P.M., July 15, 1881, when she rolled into the Winston depot. The engineer had made up 14 minutes, was feeling better.

Two men were sliding out of the shadows north of the depot, running to the baggage car's handrail, swarming up it to a range greater than 10 feet, and five of them from behind," say eyewitness affidavits of 13 fellow passengers, and upon the inquest findings still on file in the Daviess County coroner's office.

Fate was closing out the account of Jesse W. James. At the hour of the Winston robbery, there remained to his dark credit in her grim ledger only three mistakes to be made.

The moment William Westphal died, these three were less by one.

THE Winston robbery was a miserable failure. Jesse had possessed information that the combination express-baggage car was carrying upward of $25,000. His informant had forgotten to state that the sum would be in the form of non-negotiable (via bandit wheat-sack and saddlehorn, at least) fifteen-pound ingots of mint silver. There were only $600 in the safe.

Another passenger, unstrung by Westphal's murder, had tried to run out of the car and the bandit leader had cut him down in brutal turn. Frank and Wood Hite stamped by the double murder, had backed out of the car, abandoning the raging Jesse.

The conductors in the train's only other cars, two coaches and a sleeper, had bolted their doors and put out all their aisle-lights. Then, during the following assault on the express car, the engineer—his guards called off to aid in the fruitless sack of the express-company safe—had extinguished his cab lights and headlight, plunging the entire train into darkness.

Cursing their frustration, the bandit crew had run for their horses, a disorganized, inept, bungling facsimile of the once mighty James gang. They had not had time to steal a single watch or lift one passenger's pocket-change. The high cost of outlaw living was not dropping a penny, but the price of murder was going down. Splitting the $600 with his four accomplices, Jesse paid himself $60 apiece for his two homicides.

Somehow, the dying man reached the vestibule door. Jesse let him fumble the door open, fall down the smoker's outer steps to the depot platform. Following only to the last step, he shot him four more times.

Seven years before, conductor William Westphal had been in charge of the special Hannibal & St. Joe train which had crossed the Missouri to sidetrack at Kearney the night of the Samuel farmhouse bombing!

Jesse killed him with "nine bullets, none fired at a range greater than 10 feet, and five of them from behind," say eyewitness affidavits of 13 fellow passengers, and upon the inquest findings still on file in the Daviess County coroner's office.
